1.3.7 Member States ratifying or acceding to the Agreement need to ensure the provisions of the Agreement are reflected in their national law. This should also be supplemented by implementation measures. Parties should also ensure that there is coherence with th eir existing body of fishing vessel safety legislation and that there is a clear set of requirements communicated to the sector. Particular attention should be given to the case where a flag State has a pre -existing safety standard which is higher than the Agreement and, in such circumstances, the higher national standards should be retained for that State. It is also important that any conflict of laws is avoided in such situations and that there is clarity for the important that any conflict of laws is avoided in such situations and that there is clarity for the industry as to what standards apply.

1.3.8 Parties should provide for measures to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Agreement to ensure effective enforcement of the Agreement.

SECTION 2 OVERVIEW OF THE AGREEMENT

2.1 Application and entry-into-force criteria of the Agreement

2.1.1 Unless expressly provided otherwise, the provisions of the Agreement apply to new fishing vessels of 24 metres in length and over.

2.1.2 The Agreement applies to seagoing fishing vessels including vessels also processing their catch entitled to fly the flag of a Party. Its provisions do not apply to vessels exclusively used:

.1 for sport or recreation;

.2 for processing fish or other living resources of the sea;

.3 for research and training; or

.4 as fish carriers.

2.2 Structure of the Agreement

.3 for research and training; or

.4 as fish carriers.

2.2 Structure of the Agreement

2.2.1 The Agreement , which updates and amends a number of provisions of the 1993 Torremolinos Protocol, consists of articles, an annex and an appendix as follows:

ARTICLES OF THE AGREEMENT

Article 1 General obligations2

Article 2 Interpretation and application of the 1993 Torremolinos Protocol and the 1977 Torremolinos Convention3

Article 3 Signature, ratification, acceptance, approval and accession

Article 4 Entry into force

2 Article 1 provides information to the Parties to the Agreement on general obligations. It also states that the annex to the Agreement shall constitute an integral part of the Agreement and a reference to the Agreement shall constitute at the same time a reference to the annex thereto.

3 Article 2 clarifies that articles 2 to 8 inclusive and articles 11 to 14 inclusive of the 1993 Torremolinos Protocol
