When a cargo is listed in this Code, the Bulk Cargo Shipping Name of the cargo is identi

Con signment means a solid bulk cargo presented by a shipper for transport.

Dyna mic separation means the phenomenon of forming a liquid slurry (water and fine soli ds) above the solid material, resulting in a free surface effect which may significantly affect the ship's stability.

Flo w moisture point means the percentage moisture content (wet mass basis) at which a f low state develops under the prescribed method of test in a representative sample of the material (see paragraph 1 of appendix 2).

Flow state means a state occurring when a mass of granular material is saturated with li quid to an extent that, under the influence of prevailing external forces such as vibrat ion, impaction or ship's --- URL: https://wwwcdn.imo.org/localresources/en/KnowledgeCent re/IndexofIMOResolutions/MSCResolutions/MSC.539(107).pdf extent that, under the influenc e of prevailing external forces such as vibration, impaction or ship's motion, it loses its internal shear strength and behaves as a liquid.

GHS me ans the ninth revised edition of the Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals, published by the United Nations as document ST/SG/AC.10/30/R ev.9.

Grou p A consists of cargoes which possess a hazard due to moisture that may result in l iquefaction or dynamic separation if shipped at a moisture content in excess of their tr ansportable moisture limit.

Grou p B consists of cargoes which possess a chemical hazard which could give rise to a dangerous situation on a ship.

Grou p C consists of cargoes which are classified as neither group A nor group B.

IMDG Code means the International Maritime Dangerous Goods (IMDG) Code adopted by the Ma ritime Safety Committee of the Organization by resolution MSC.122(75), as may be amended by the Organization.

Inc ompatible materials means materials that may react dangerously when mixed.

They are subject to the segregation requirements of 9.3 and the schedules for individual cargoes classified in group B.

Int ernational Ship and Port Facility Security (ISPS) Code means the International Code for the Security of Ships and of Port Facilities, consisting of Part A (the provisions o f which shall be treated as mandatory) and Part B (the provisions of which shall be trea ted as recommendatory), as adopted, --- URL: https://wwwcdn.imo.org/localresources/en/Kn owledgeCentre/IndexofIMOResolutions/MSCResolutions/MSC.539(107).pdf as mandatory) and Pa rt B (the provisions of which shall be treated as recommendatory), as adopted, on 12 Dec ember 2002, by resolution 2 of the Conference of Contracting Governments to the Internat ional Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, 1974, as may be amended by the Organizat ion.

Moi sture content means that portion of a representative sample consisting of water, ice or other liquid expressed as a percentage of the total wet mass of that sample.

Moi sture migration means the movement of moisture contained in a cargo by settling and ined in a cargo by settling and consolidation of the cargo due to vibration and ship's m otion.

Water is progressively displaced, which may result in some portions or all of the cargo developing a flow state.

Non -cohesive material means dry materials that readily shift due to sliding during tran sport, as listed in appendix 3, paragraph 1, "Properties of dry bulk cargoes".
